

Total Immersion®

Learn a language in the shortest time possible

Total Immersion® is an intense personalised language training program and one of the most certain ways to master active communication skills in the shortest possible time. How? Because in only one to three weeks you can learn to express yourself in your new language in both social and business situations. How does it work? You will speak, listen and think in your new language all day long.

A typical Total Immersion® day

- 09.00-11.55 One-to-one instruction.
- 12.00-13.25 Instructor and student have lunch together to maintain immersion in the target language in a social setting.
- 13.30-14.10 The student has a study lesson alone to focus on specific areas of improvement - either grammar exercises, listening to CDs, preparing oral or written summaries or reading texts. Depending on the level, he/she could also prepare role-plays, speeches and presentations.
- 14.15-14.55 The student has a lesson with two instructors in order to experience 3-way conversation and to build fluency. The student's interests, needs and level determine the subjects chosen for activation. For example, presentation and meeting techniques can also be practised during this lesson.
- 15.00-17.55 One-to-one instruction.

Normally, three to four Berlitz instructors - who are native speakers trained in the Berlitz Method® - are involved in a Total Immersion® program. This communicative approach to language learning exposes the student to different accents and expressions in the given language and enables the student to learn the target language effectively.

Focus on obtaining active language skills

The student is challenged throughout the course through structured discussions, simulations, exercises and visual material. The course topics and materials cover general language skills, as well as special expressions and authentic business role-plays, preparing the student for real-life situations. Total Immersion® vocabulary can be customized to include specific business terminology and any special requirements of the student. Excursions in the target language may also be included to discover cultural aspects of the language.

Ideal for

Highly focused people who want to learn a language in the fastest possible way and who can block their calendar for one or more weeks to totally immerse themselves in learning their target language without any distraction.
